STANFORD, KY., FRIDAY, APRIL 9, 1897.

NO. 12

RELIGIOUS.

Christian Endeavor will re-organize at Mt. Xenia Sunday afternoon, April 11, at 3:30 P. M. All invited.

In the midst of a pouring rain colored people had their sins washed away in the waters of Elkton, Scott county, Sunday.

Rev. R. B. Mahony and Rev. T. H. Campbell, of Lancaster, will exchange pulpits Sunday, Mr. Campbell preaching at London and Mr. Mahony at Lancaster.

A protracted meeting will begin at the Baptist church in Elizabethtown next Sunday. The Rev. J. M. Bruce will be assisted by the Rev. J. H. Dew, of Versailles.

For 26 years Elder J. S. Sweeney has been pastor of the Paris Christian church, and his continued labors have broken him down. His church has given him a long vacation to recuperate.

On the 21st Rev. George O. Barnes and Miss Marie will leave Sanibel Island to resume their labor of love. That date is Bro. Barnes' 70th birthday and the 21st anniversary of his evangel. The number 7 figures prominently in it and he takes that as a good omen.

The Baptist ministers' conference refused to acquit the Rev. J. A. Lee of the charges that he had offered to sell to the representatives of the Cincinnati Commercial Tribune such information as he possessed, or should come into possession of, as spiritual adviser of the condemned murderers, Jackson and Walling and advised him to take the matter to the courts, which of course he will not do.

The Methodist meeting continues with services on the street changed to the night time, the day performance seeming to have lost its interest to some extent. The additions by conversion may be large, but judging by the number of those who testify "that they are saved and sanctified and kept by His Grace," the increase in that line is not great. The same crowd tells the same story at every meeting, but it seems to do them good, and it is nobody's business how they worship the Lord and what they say.

VICINITY NEWS.

James Ballard died in Madison, aged 76.

Mrs. Patsy Coyle, aged 99 years, died in Madison county.

Our old friend, Jake Carpenter, is likely to be postmaster at Perryville. Wm. Hankins has the best show, it is said, at Junction City and James Gooch at Shelby City.

Litigation against the Southern Building & Loan Association of Knoxville has been resumed, citizens of several States uniting in a petition for a receiver and for an injunction.

John G. Henry, of near Kirksville, tells the Richmond Register that the report that he attempted to rape a woman named Dulaney, was started by her for the purpose of blackmail and the paper thinks from Mr. Henry's personal appearance that he would not be guilty of such an act.

REVIVAL AT BRYANTSVILLE.

(To the Editor of The INTERIOR JOURNAL.)

The holiness revival is sweeping through Bryantsville; souls are being saved and sanctified. One lady sat up all night Monday night and fasted and prayed until God wonderfully saved. Another lady from Louisville (who is visiting at Wilmore) was under such deep conviction that she did not sleep any Monday night, fasted and prayed all day Tuesday, and is still seeking salvation. She left the house Tuesday night in the agony of despair. Bro. Harney depicted hell in such a vivid way that his hearers could almost hear the crackling of the flames as they played around their victims. Old men were seen to shudder and the whole audience trembled before the awful picture. God is surely here in great power and we are looking for a revival such as Bryantsville has never known. Glory! The hosts of God are marching on.

GEO. E. KERSLY,
Bryantsville, April 7.

THE MEXICAN VETERAN ASSOCIATION

Of Kentucky will meet in annual reunion at Cynthiana on Wednesday, May 12, 1897. All Mexican veterans, their wives, sons and daughters and honorary members are cordially invited to attend. The local committee and other friends and citizens of Cynthiana are making ample preparations and suitable arrangements for the comfort, accommodation and entertainment for all veterans who may be able to attend the meeting. E. H. HOBSON, President Mexican Veteran Association.

A live alligator, nine feet long, dressed to John Whaling, is in the Winchester express office unclaimed. A young lady there hearing of the arrival, asked her beau if such animals were not amphibious. "Yes they will bite you in a minute," was his prompt reply.

STATE OF CASEY.

E. C. W. Finds Many Interesting Items While There.

Were I asked to name a town, Where peace, good-will and love abound, No other name would come to me But that of Casey's Liberte.

The swollen streams in Casey kept away a great many who would otherwise have attended court Monday and a rather small crowd was on hand. The waters receded by Tuesday, however, and the sturdy Caseytites took advantage of their opportunity and came to town in flocks. Judge Jones and Commonwealth's Attorney Muncie did not arrive until 4 o'clock Monday afternoon and at that late hour convened court. They had a number of rivers to ford on their way from Adair and Metcalf counties and were fortunate to get to Liberty as early as they did.

The criminal docket for this term is small, there being no murder and few felony cases. The civil docket is unusually large and it is probable that court will continue over next week.

As usual the patent medicine men were on hand and what they did for the people was a plenty. Anderson Carr, Stanford's product, was very much in evidence with a banjo picker, a tooth puller and so on. He had a big day which will result, no doubt, in giving the Casey M. D.'s a much-needed rest. Those who have tried Anderson's medicine pronounce it as a veritable wonder.

Liberty's appearance hasn't greatly changed since last circuit court, but she promises to do herself proud within the next few months. The following gentlemen will build this spring: A. P. Young, Lafe Sharp, Pat Napier, Winston Wilkerson and Sam Hamlin. Others are considering the advisability of building.

Monday was also horse show day, but only three stallions were exhibited. J. Steele Carpenter's Lexel, ridden by W. C. Moore, was in fine trim and made an excellent showing; J. W. Rich's Moscow Denmark made many friends by his good looks and easy movements, while Winston Bowman's Grady Wilkes, as usual, won additional laurels. They are all good horses and deserve to make big seasons.

The pie hunters are as numerous in Casey as they are elsewhere and while there are many applicants for the post offices of the several towns I have been in I can name those who will knock the lucky plum. M. K. Humphrey will succeed J. W. Whipp at Liberty; Theo. Wesley will have charge of the mail at Middleburg; Miss Helen Tharp will carry Uncle Sam's keys at Yosemite; H. R. Camnitz will receive the appointment at Hustonville and if Dr. Green Moore isn't retained at McKinney there will be a general surprise. The doctor was a sound money democrat.

Casey's fat boy, Fred Durham, is falling off, but he hasn't the appearance of a consumptive yet. He has lost nine pounds and now only weighs 211. He is 13 years old, five feet two inches high, and notwithstanding his corpulence he is as active as a cat.

"Uncle Emlick" Royalty, who was Liberty's postmaster for 40 years, continues very feeble. He will never fully recover from a fall he had some months ago and no man will be more sadly missed than he when he is called to a better world. Although 88 years old with a pain-racked body, his mind is as clear as it was years ago. He is a most interesting talker and the best of all, an uncompromising democrat.

The republican primary of a month ago is still a topic of conversation. There were some 30 candidates and the soreness of those who lost hasn't yet entirely departed. It is safe to say that Casey's republican majority will be decreased in November and it is probable that in some of the races the majority will be on the other side. The democrats will run at least four candidates and if some of them don't win they will scare the lives out of their opponents.

There is a diversity of opinion regarding the legality of Rev. Fred Gridder's seat in the Legislature and his vote in the primary. He moved to Madison some months ago and left nothing in Casey save a bedstead he wanted to sell and walking cane he forgot. The bed was sold and supposing no doubt that he could vote wherever his favorite cane was he came down and asserted the right of suffrage. The court will make an investigation of the matter and the statesman-preacher may yet be prosecuted.

Measles, which carried off so many of Casey's good citizens, has about completed its deadly work. There are very few cases in the county now, but scores of families are left bereaved because of the loss of one or more members from that epidemic. Around Middleburg alone there were six deaths.

There is a possibility that Hon. Geo. E. Stone will be the democratic nominee for judge. He is being urged to accept the nomination, but has not yet agreed to do so. L. W. Sharpe will beyond doubt make the race against the republican nominee for assessor and J. W. Hoskins will very probably try for the county clerkship. A ticket composed of such men would stand a monstrous good show to win and here's hoping that it will.

G. R. Cowden, who keeps a little of everything, has just received a consignment of 2,500 "linen" collars—more perhaps than in all stores in Stanford. "Are you going into the wholesale business?" I asked. "Oh, no," said Mr. Cowden, "those won't last me till Christmas. In hot weather some of my customers wear half a dozen a day. I sell them two for five cents and they don't think of having them laundered."

The Commercial Bank is progressing nicely. The deposits are a little short now, $32,000, but the loans, surplus and undivided profits are all right. The former amount to $41,000, while the surplus and undivided profits are $1,200 and $900 respectively. President F. D. Combs, Cashier George Prewitt and Teller Young are good men for the positions they hold and the directors of the above bank know it too well to let them go. Some of this bank's stock changed hands at $108 the other day.

A number of years ago there resided in Casey five John Moores, and to distinguish them they were given "nick names," but whether the names were appropriate or not, I can not say. For instance, one was unfortunate enough to be dubbed "Nasty" John, another "Ugly" John, and so on. "Frosty" John, who is well known here, is the only surviving one, but his "nick" name is still used and will follow him to his grave. "Frosty" is indeed a misnomer, for there never was a warmer hearted, cleverer gentleman than "Frosty" John Moore.

The Legislature.

The House voted against abolishing the State board of equalization 43 to 30. Senator Bronston's resolution to adjourn sine die next Tuesday was defeated 14 to 18, as he hoped and expected. Latest reports from the 34th Senatorial district, indicate that Hagar defeated Atkinson for State Senator by at least 25 votes.

The Anderson News has figured it down and reports that the Legislature costs the people $60 a minute for the time it is in session.

The House passed the bill to reduce the pay of the assistant adjutant general to $1 a year, but it will not affect the present incumbent.

Senator Bronston made a fiery speech denouncing Hunter, his supporters, republicans in general and offered a resolution to adjourn sine die April 15.

COLLEGE NEWS—MT. VERNON.

Mrs. Scroggs entertained the primary and intermediate grades of the College Tuesday last from 3 to 5 P. M. There were 18 present and all had a delightful time. Miss Mary Green, of East Bernstadt, and Misses Berda Martin and Clara Kennedy, of the College, assisted in entertaining the little ones. A pretty programme was carried out, wholly impromptu. Refreshments were served and the leave taking of the hostess was as conventional as though they had been men and women.

Miss Berda Martin, who won the silver medal at the Demoret contest in Mt. Vernon in January, will enter the Demoret contest at Lancaster for the gold medal, May 14th.

The exercises for commencement day in June are already in preparation and will no doubt be a great feast for citizens, patrons and friends of the interests of Mt. Vernon and the College.

Prof. Scroggs and R. G. Williams will give a scene from Shakespeare at the meeting of the Salamagundi Club next week. The club will meet with Mrs. Scroggs. Several guests from a distance will be present.

A Michigan girl confessed to her pastor that she had received attention from 17 young men and that 15 of them had kissed her. Poor girl. Her lips must be sore from so much osculation for surely the 15 did not stop at one kiss apiece.

The report of the State railroad commissioners shows that during last year 84 persons were killed on or by railroad trains in this State. Of that number two were passengers, 30 employees and 52 were classed as "others."

After a struggle lasting three years the strike at the United States Glass Company at Gas City, Ind., has been declared off and the strikers will return. It has cost their association $50,000.

The ladies on "Kissin" street, Cleveland, O., have petitioned the city council to change the name. They are afraid strangers might want to do as the name suggests.

Mrs. Isaac T. Woodson, a sister-in-law of Mr. Matt Woodson, died in Louisville.

LANCASTER.

Sam F. Embry is on the sick list. Rev. Lapsley McKee, of Danville, will begin a protracted meeting at the Presbyterian church in this city on Sunday, 18th.

Mr. G. M. Patterson has ordered electric poles from Tennessee and the erection of a plant is a certainty.

Mr. Smiley Walker and Miss Maggie Thompson, of this county, will be married at Danville today (Thursday) at 4 o'clock P. M.

Monte Fox bought a pair of mules in Madison for $250. They were splendid animals, the pair weighing 2,450 lbs. The time has been when they would have sold for $400.

Mr. Joseph White, living near Crab Orchard, and Miss Amanda Bishop, who lives near Hustonville, were married at 4 o'clock P. M., on Wednesday at the residence of J. C. Thompson, in this city, by Eld. George W. Gowen.

G. T. Farris, chairman of the democratic county committee, will meet the other members of the committee for this judicial district at Danville next Monday to decide on a time, place and manner of nominating candidates for judge and commonwealth's attorney.

Reports say that a notice has been posted on H. C. Potts' flouring mill, about eight miles from town, ordering him not to sell any more flour at more than $2 per hundred. Potts wrote as follows below the notice: "I will sell flour as I d-n please and you can find me at home any time."

While coming from Richmond to Lancaster Monday on the K. C. train, Miss Lena Jennings, of Richmond, was struck by a water cooler, which was thrown from its place by a sudden jump or jerk of the train. She was unconscious for awhile. There is talk of a suit for damages on account of negligence or carelessness on the part of the railroad company.

The diabolical schemes of the midnight marauders and anarchists are still being played. Mr. Simpson, the gate keeper on the Buckeye pike, who was ordered to leave in 10 days, has moved to an adjoining county, in obedience to violent threats. Your correspondent proposes the erection of toll gates with dynamite or loaded shells in the poles and posts, so adjusted that they will explode when there is an attempt to destroy the gates. If this is successful the office of coroner will be in demand.

Judge Burnside has received an anonymous letter, mailed at Stone, in which there is a drawing of a man hanging on a tree. It declares that he will not be re-elected unless he withdraws that $6,000 reward for toll gate raiders and makes the roads free. The judge is not intimidated in the least and will still do all in his power to suppress raids and mob violence. The letter is partly written in capitals, apparently to disguise the hand. The spelling, composition and penmanship are all bad and clearly indicate that the author is illiterate and had better be building school houses instead of tearing down toll gates.

The fiscal court was in session Wednesday and adjourned to meet again next Monday. On Tuesday a motion was made by Squire Jack Dunn to make a levy of 25 cents on each $100 worth of property to be used in purchasing turnpikes. The motion was lost, only one member of the court favoring it. On Wednesday the stockholders of the Lancaster & Lexington turnpike offered to sell that road, consisting of about 18 miles to the county for $30,000, $3,000 to be paid each year for 10 years, without interest. The proposition was not accepted. It is about equivalent to the estimate, with interest, which was made on the same road by the committee, which the court set out some time ago to make estimates. On Monday the court will hear a proposition to lease two roads until the November election at a price equal to the amount of toll that has been collected for the same time in the past.

The critical stage of the flood south of Vicksburg, Miss., is almost at hand. The waters from the crevasses above are finding their way back into the river. The Tensas basin may be a scene of destruction as the strain upon the levees will be enormous. Congress having appropriated $200,000, the Memphis relief committee has withdrawn its appeal for aid.

Senator Ingalls says that it is all bosh about Fitzsimmons waiting for the blow with which he knocked Corbett out and that Fitz told him it was an involuntary one on his part and one delivered at random. The Senator also says that Fitz's wife did nothing unbecoming a lady at the ringside.

Durrant, the San Francisco brute, who killed two girls in a church two or three years ago, is still unhung. The highest State court has just affirmed the death sentence in his case and he is now trying to get the Federal courts to interfere in his behalf.

THE INTERIOR JOURNAL

STANFORD, KY., APRIL 9, 1897

W. P. WALTON.

THE Courier-Journal is a little late in its surrejoinder and but for the fact that it reproduces our entire rejoinder we might have forgotten what the contention was about. In its Tuesday's issue it devotes a column or so to our article of a week previous and indulges in much self adulation, forgetting that it is said that such praise is half scandal. There are exceptions, however, to all rules and we are willing and ready to admit and hereby do cheerfully admit that of all the good things the paper says of itself and more are true. In many respects it is the greatest and best newspaper we have ever seen, its brilliant editor easily standing head and shoulders above any other writer in the country. We are perfectly agreed on that point, but when it says it is standing now where it always stood and where it will always stand, we enter a firm, but respectful dissent to the first proposition and a doubt to the latter since we must judge its future course by its past. The Courier-Journal didn't always fight the democratic party and it didn't always help to make republican victories possible. We fought side by side with it too long and tried to emulate its splendid example too often to believe that it was then dissembling and that now only its real position is manifested. It never said in the halcyon days of the past what it says to-day and what by its course it seems to intend to try to do: have a party of its own strong enough to wallop both the old parties and that party, it adds "we confidently expect to get."

Our esteemed contemporary agrees with us that there is great popular discontent and disgust with republican mismanagement of affairs, and we agree with it that the republican party is slowly, but surely going to pieces, but not to the extent of reducing it from a decided factor in State politics. The more sensible and patriotic members of the party may leave it, but there will still be a sufficient number of the venal and ignorant to give democrats a fight, and that is all the fight democracy should have on its hands. We can never do anything fighting among ourselves. Let the Courier-Journal cease to war upon its friends and with its guns turned to the enemy pour a broad side into their ranks, as it is so capable of doing, that will send those who escape the death dealing darts, bleeding and in dismay from the field.

Mr. Watterson says that all parties are now in a more or less fluid or liquid state. True, very true indeed. In fact they seem to be in a flood state, if we are to judge by the results in Ohio and Illinois. The rush to democracy in those States discounts the rush of the mighty waters of the Mississippi and above the roar is heard the cry of disappointment over unfulfilled promises of a better currency and better times, that the republicans and their aid society held to the ear, giving to the people now instead of bread the stone of high taxes and a more reckless waste of their money.

"With four tickets in the field, one led by Mr. Hardin, one by Mr. Pettit, one by Mr. Bradley and one by Gen. Buckner—we use names merely by way of illustration—we believe that the enlightened, conservative element of all parties would unite on Gen. Buckner and elect him," says the Courier-Journal, and thereby shows a lack of touch with the great majority of the very voters that it banks upon. There was a time when democrats delighted to honor Gen. Buckner, but—let me speak no evil of the dead, who was so cruelly crucified in the house of his supposed friends at Indianapolis. He only got 5,114 votes in November. If he were alive now, peace to his ashes, he could not rally even the 114. The 215,431 democrats who didn't scratch the ticket will never forgive him for playing second fiddle to McKinley, even though they can not forget his former great efforts for democracy and good government. We say these things more in love than in anger, for we have loved Gen. Buckner and regret to have found our idol clay. The general is too old now to make amends, but we havn't lost faith in the Courier-Journal. As newspapers go, it has reached far beyond the span of life, but it is still young and its editor is still a true democrat at heart and a true man by nature and choice. He is as much out of his element now as a fish is out of water and we hope soon to hear him acknowledge the error of his way and see him walk down the aisle for the right hand of fellowship, while the democratic hosts sing together in joyous invitation:

The year of jubilee has come,
Return, ye ransomed sinner, home.

THE Cincinnati Commercial-Tribune wakes up in a dazed sort of way and not knowing exactly what hit it says before lapsing back into unconsciousness: "There is a rumor that the second ward of Xenia, went republican, but at the present writing it has not been confirmed." Later report is, however, that even that too went republican.

HUNTER came nearer election Tuesday than possibly he ever will again. A badly managed effort to break a quorum gave him a majority and had Lt. Gov. Worthington ruled immediately gum shoe would have walked off with the coveted prize. A recapitulation was demanded and the absentees brought out, when it was found that Hunter was two votes shy again. It was the most exciting event of the session. The democrats united with the silver in breaking a quorum and then voted solidly for Senator Martin.

The quorum was broken again Wednesday by the opposition to Hunter combining. The six original anti-Hunter republicans issue an address, in which they state their position and literally flay the slick citizen alive. It makes mighty entertaining reading, and we would print it but for its length. Following is the latest from the scene of the conflict:

FRANKFORT, April 8.—The joint session took two futile ballots and adjourned.

THE revolt against republicanism, high taxes and profligacy of the people's money has already set in. In the municipal elections in Ohio Monday, the democrats seem to have had things their own way, notwithstanding McKinley carried the State by about 50,000. At Cincinnati Boss Cox's man, Goodale, was snowed under by Tafel, democrat, for mayor, who was elected by 7,320, but his entire ticket also getting there, but by lesser majorities. When it is remembered that the Queen City went 20,000 republican in November it can readily be seen how terrific the revolution of opinion has been. The Enquirer did noble work for the cause and to it much of the credit of the result is due.

THE straight democratic ticket, headed by Carter Harrison, son of the martyred mayor, won in Chicago, that gentleman's majority reaching 2,222 and his plurality 77,756. There were eight tickets in the field, the vote being as follows: Harrison (Dem.) 144,828; Harlan (Ind.) 67,072; Sears (Rep.) 57,566; Hesing (Business Administration) 15,166; Glembeck (Socialist Labor) 1,226; Parmelee (Pro) 852; J. I. Pearce, Jr., (Ind.) 686; Collier (Ind.) 88. Though quite young, Mr. Harrison has shown himself to be a man of parts and the result is a decided compliment to him as well as a big plume in the cap of democracy.

HON. W. J. BRYAN was in Washington Tuesday to argue a case before the supreme court and attracted more attention wherever he went than a circus parade. He paid a call on the president and the two jolted each other in good natured fashion. Generally the man who is defeated is regarded as sort of a dead duck and interest in him ceases, but not so with your cousin William Jennings. He is the idol of his followers yet, many of whom regard him as Bro. Maret of the Mt. Vernon Signal, expressed it, the greatest man since the birth of Christ.

THIS is decidedly the off-year for the bosses, as last was just as emphatically their on. Even Potato Patch Pingree, who tried to hold the offices of governor of Michigan and mayor of Detroit at same time, but who was turned down by the appellate court, and then put up a man to run for mayor, was buried under almost as large an avalanche as Cox. A democrat was elected mayor in the rock-ribbed republican stronghold of Detroit and old Potato Patch realizes fully the force of Judge Jewell's aphorism.

THE Harrodsburg Sayings is wrong as usual. We didn't say the "only" Ulster County Gazette was printed at the Centennial in 1876, as it could see if it could say anything. What we said was that a million or more of "the original and only" Gazettes, as they claim to be, were printed then. They were fac similes of that printed just after the death of Washington and could hardly be told from them.

THE Todd County Times is reminded that it is quality and not quantity that is more appreciated. What the people want is reliable news and honest opinions, not blanket sheets printed in horse type with nothing in them. THE INTERIOR JOURNAL takes no patent ads. to fill up, nor cuts its rates for anybody. Come out steamed contemporary say as much?

THE Legislature has been in session nearly four weeks and the only bill yet sent to the governor is that prescribing pains and penalties for rotten-egg public speakers. One bill a month and there are 43 subjects included in the call. Jehoshaphat! Does this Legislature expect to hold on 35 months after the new one comes in?

WHEN democratic papers go to praising the acts of republicans it is time for all decent republicans to hold their noses. Eh, Walton?—Richmond Pan-graph. Even if your proposition were true, you wouldn't have to hold your nose. Eh, Adams?

THE Louisville Post prints large pictures of Congressmen Colson and Davison either for the purpose of filling up or to show the handsomest and ugliest man in the delegation, we are at a loss to determine.

THE Louisville Times with its usual enterprise and feeling for the unfortunate will give a concert at the Grand Opera House to-night, for the benefit of the flood sufferers, which will doubtless be largely attended. Manager Bob Brown is always ahead of the procession in every good word and work.

CANTON sent McKinley a greeting in the shape of 500 majority for the democratic ticket. Even his homefolks seems to have tired already of the man they helped to make president.

POLITICS

Earl Wilson, just 21, has been elected mayor of Lebanon, O. In 15 Ohio cities alone the democrats gained 41,361 votes over last fall. May 29th is the day selected for the democratic primary in Madison. Senator Lindsay made a great speech on his bankruptcy bill this week.

A. E. Buck, the republican boss of Georgia, was nominated to be United States minister to Japan.

Simpson, of Kansas, denounced Speaker Reed in the House for his failure to appoint committees.

Both Houses of Congress passed a resolution appropriating $200,000 for the relief of Southern flood sufferers.

Hunter hangs on like grim death. Nothing seems to be able to move from his determination to hold on till the last day in the evening.

James Boyle, of Ohio, was nominated to be United States consul at Liverpool, Eng. He was McKinley's private secretary while he was governor.

Voting machines were used at the late election in Lansing, Mich., and worked very satisfactorily. The result was known 10 minutes after the close of the polls.

The republicans and National democrats of Mercer county failed to fuse. The proposition ought to have been taken as an insult even by as slight democrats as bolterocrats.

Judge Cantrill has been declared the democratic candidate for circuit judge to succeed himself, by the committee which was empowered to do it if no other candidate was announced by April 1.

Miss Phoebe Cousins, of St. Louis, who has had experience in public affairs and been a life-long woman suffragist, says now that woman is naturally a home-keeper, and will never prove satisfactory in public life.

The administration proposes to adopt a vigorous policy to secure from Turkey redress for outrages to Americans and destruction to American property in Armenia. The plan is to send John W. Foster to Constantinople as a special envoy with the rank of ambassador.

The pops. met in Louisville Wednesday and nominated J. A. Parker for clerk of the court of appeals after adopting a platform reaffirming all the miserable doctrines of the party and declaring for free turnpikes and a sweeping reduction in salaries of State officers.

Dr. Hunter seems destined to come just in sight of the Senatorship and yet never able to reach it. He reminds us of a saddle horse George A. Moore, of this city, used to exhibit at the county fairs. One season he showed him 16 times and he took 16 red ribbons.—Winchester Democrat.

Chairman J. S. Chrisman has called a meeting of the democratic executive committee of the 13th judicial district to be held in Danville Monday, April 12th at 11 A. M. for the purpose of determining the time and method of selecting candidates for circuit judge and Commonwealth's attorney.—Advocate.

McKinley is dead in earnest about not appointing Kentuckians to office until a Senator has been elected. John W. Langley was informed that, although he was the best endorsed man for the office of assistant commissioner of the general land office, the place could not be held open until the Kentucky Legislature had chosen a Senator and Mr. Langley could not be appointed.

Ex-Speaker Patrick Walsh, of Georgia, in his address to the Cotton Growers' Protective Association, which met at Augusta recently, said: "Were I in Congress I would give the party in power free scope to make such laws as it may deem essential for a revival of business and a return of prosperity. If their administration of the government proves a failure, the American people will hold the republican party to a strict accountability, and the principles and policies of the democratic party will be vindicated in the next presidential election."

Representative Nance, of Webster, replied to his kicking constituents as follows: I do not propose to ruin the republican party in this State, disgrace the State, cast a reflection upon the Senate of the United States by sending a man there who possesses neither the natural ability nor the acquired attainments one should possess who aspires to so honorable and responsible a position; whose methods are questionable and whose record is under a halo of suspicion, though you should meet and resolute and indignant till doomsday. I know about as much of what is going on here as people in Webster county.

News Briefly Told

United States Minister James A. McKenzie, who was secretary of State under Gov. Knott, is believed to be hopelessly ill at Lima, Peru.

A 24 year-old boy at Chicago burned out his baby brother's eyes with a red hot poker.

Mrs. Mollie Cox was badly burned by flames which destroyed her residence in Harrison county.

A train fell 50 feet through a bridge at Pittsburg. The fireman was killed and the engineer perhaps fatally injured.

Two people are dead and five are in a critical condition as a result of being overcome by smoke and gas in a tunnel on Pike's Peak.

Three men were overcome by the carbonic acid gas, while cleaning out a beer tub at a brewery in Montreal and died in a short time.

Up to 1876 the number of patents issued relating to bicycles amounted to about 300. Since then over 4,000 bicycle patents have been issued.

The steamer Hart, was disabled by striking a log at Granville, Tenn., on the upper Cumberland, and burned with all its freight. No lives lost.

Two sharpers worked hundreds of Shelbyville, Ind., women by selling them English sparrows painted yellow. They claimed they were canaries.

Z. T. Lewis, of Urbana, O., against whom 400 indictments have been found for bond forgeries aggregating $300,000, has been captured at Ypsilanti, Mich.

Another stranger was found dead in a Chicago alley the other day with his head battered into a jelly. It is supposed the footpads were after the gold filling in his teeth.

The Chesapeake & Ohio has let the contract for the grading for an additional track between Huntington, W. Va., and Ashland, Ky., to make the road a double track.

The Bell Telephone Company last year earned $5,547,429. Of this amount the net profit was $3,383,580. A really good invention is more profitable than the average gold mine.

It develops that Joe Neal, the boy silver orator, of Prestonsburg, is not insane, as reported, and is recovering from an attack of typhoid fever, during which he was delirious.

William Carrick and daughter were bound by masked burglars at Tiffin, O., who robbed them of $2,000. They were not released for seven hours, when the daughter was unconscious.

From Marion, Ark., to Greenville, Miss., there are now at least 50 towns and villages under water. The property of from 50,000 to 60,000 people has been destroyed by the flood.

Mrs. William McGinnis, of Atlanta, is an unusual woman. She saw a burglar in her room and instead of fainting, she caught and held him till a policeman arrived and took him to jail.

The first to sit in the electrical chair in the Ohio penitentiary will do so this morning. William Hass, a youth of 18, will have the current shot through him until he is dead, for a terrible murder.

Raiders destroyed 11 more Fleming county toll-gates and left word for President Clift, of the Mayaville and Mt. Sterling road, that he would be cowhided if another attempt to collect toll was made.

The Riverside Cotton Mills Company, of Danville, Va., has given an order for 170 new looms. When these are put in the mills will have 2,751 looms, which will make the Riverside the largest cotton factory in the South.

MATRIMONIAL.

Charles E. Martin and Miss Minnie Carter, well-known young people of Middleboro, eloped to Shawnee, Tenn., and were married.

John K. Letcher, son of Dr. Ben Letcher, former superintendent of the Western Kentucky Asylum for the Insane, and Miss Hattie Vaughn, housekeeper of the institution, will be married on the 13th.

Moses F. Berry, a widower of 63, was married yesterday to Miss Allie J. Elliott, a pretty lassie of 18 summers. The bride is a daughter of Isaac Elliott, who lives in the Maywood section, and the wedding occurred at his home.

Our Lancaster letter mentions the marriage of Joe H. White and Miss Amanda Bishop, the pretty and attractive daughter of Mr. Josiah Bishop, both of this county. Joe has legions of friends who will be glad to hear of his good fortune. He made an excellent deputy sheriff and will doubtless make his lovely bride a good husband.

The Lexington Argonaut says of turnpike raiders: The demons in the shape of human beings who are destroying the hard earning and saving of well-to-do people in adjoining countries should be hunted down and shot like wolves. This and this alone, will stop it.

The Courier-Journal is raising a fund for the flood sufferers that has amounted already to $1,455.80. The paper heads the list with $100.

"YE Old Folks' Concert" seems hard to get started off. The promoters have tried two nights to get the gang together, but failing will try again tonight.

A HOT fight is going on at McKinney. The prohibitionists are making a strenuous effort to prevent P. W. Green from securing saloon license Monday, and he is not idly watching them work. It is hard to tell which side will win.

THE horse attached to Farris & Hardin's delivery wagon dashed down Depp street at break-neck speed Wednesday and striking the corner of Miss Lizzie Beazley's store with the vehicle tore a wheel to pieces and damaged the building. The animal was also hurt considerably.

THE Covington Commonwealth makes a great ado over the fact that four generations sat at table in that city Wednesday. Four generations sit together at the Myers House here every day. Mrs. Conner and her daughter, Mrs. Burnside, grand-daughter, Mrs. A. G. Huffman and her children.

It rained yesterday all day and at a rate which gave evidence that notwithstanding the promise to the contrary, another deluge may destroy the world again. It was booked to continue last night, but a bow of promise appears in the prediction that the clouds will vanish Friday and the rains will cease for a season.

If it takes 21 cents on the $100 to keep the hog paths, called by courtesy turnpikes, that the county has bought, in repair, what may we expect when the county has to keep them all up? It will take all a man can make after awhile to pay his taxes and furnish free roads to the worthless scamps who pay nothing to support the government.

A GOOD many amusing things occur at the Methodist meeting, Tuesday night Bro. Andrew Johnson engaged in prayer and continued to wrestle in supplication loudly and long till Bro. Pickett, who is somewhat of wag anyway, getting tired, said, "Let's stop praying awhile, Bro. Johnson, and sing a hymn." But for this gentle suggestion, the brother might have kept it up till now.

GOING TO CONNECT US.—A dispatch from Danville says: The East Tennessee Telephone Company has completed arrangements for the extension of its metallic circuit long-distance service to Danville, which will give this city perfect communication with all principal cities. The line will come from Franklin via Lawrenceburg and Harrodsburg. The company will also run a wire between Danville and Stanford, and this will complete the circuit between the four or five leading towns in this portion of Kentucky.

THE Baptist ladies have spent several days at the parsonage this week at work and had it in readiness for Rev. and Mrs. J. B. Crouch when they arrived yesterday. Every detail of house keeping had been looked after by these kind ladies and the pantry had been filled with good things for the inner man, and thus the new pastor and his wife met with an unusually cordial reception, which they truly appreciated. As well as the exterior, the interior of the parsonage is now a thing of beauty and the thoughtfulness of these good ladies is commendable.

THE Caledonian Society will give a free entertainment at the court-house Saturday night, 10th, at 7:30. Mr. J. L. Beazley is chairman and the program includes prayer by Dr. W. B. O'Bannon, an address by Prof. E. L. Grubbs, a solo by Maud Varnon, a charade by the college girls, a violin solo by Allie Huffman, solo by Mrs. Carroll Shanks, declamation by Dexter Ballou, recitation by Miss Edna Courts and a solo by Miss Clara Mershon. E. O. Singleton and E. B. Ritchie will affirm that the U. S. ought to acknowledge Cuban belligerency and James M. Saufley and L. M. Lewis will argue that it should not. A quartette will sing a song and Barnes Wearen and James T. Menefee will read the paper.

WE are receiving two car loads of buggies, carriages and road wagons that were bought for spot cash. Can sell lower than any one. B. K. Wearne & Son, opp. court-house.

I WILL have my annual spring opening Thursday and Friday, next, 15 and 16, and on Saturday, the 17th, the children are invited to come to my store. Will have a nice display of pattern hats and bonnets. Miss Lizzie Beazley.

TELEPHONE.—Messrs. F. M. Ware and E. O. Singleton are putting up a telephone line between the former's store at McKinney and their partnership shop at Turnersville. It will connect at McKinney with the Casey line and it is the desire of the above gentlemen to run it to Stanford. It could be done for a small amount and we could then be on speaking terms with the whole West End as well as the entire State of Casey. The line from Mt. Salem to McKinney will be up within a week.

OUR Casey county friends did our business manager proud. Besides sending him away with more than a hundred dollars, 19 more of them added their names to our already long subscription list and business men right and left gave him jobs to print, aggregating near 15,000 impressions. With such a good man to present the manifold advantages of the INTERIOR JOURNAL for getting out an up-to-date paper and doing all kinds of job printing in the best style and at the lowest prices, it is little wonder that our subscription list is larger than ever before in the history of the paper and that our force is kept constantly busy in serving the public.

JONES.—We thought to give extracts from Sam Jones' infidel lecture "On Get There and Stay There," but gave up the job. What he says doesn't read near as well as it sounds when he tells it in his incomparable way. His gun was loaded for bear and like a blunderbuss it scattered far and near. He went for the dukes, for the preachers, for the merchants, for the so-called Christians and the sinners and ripped them fore and aft. The execration that he heaped upon our aldermen, as he called them, for allowing saloons to open again, was like doubly distilled vitrol and the dire prophesies that he said would result nearly scared to death the weaker-nerved women and children. It is to be hoped that he is neither a prophet nor the son of a prophet. He ridiculed the fact that the Methodist had been holding a meeting here since Christmas and said there must be something the matter with the gun. Two weeks would be more than he would want to clean up this town. To Bro. Grinstead he is said to have said when he told him of his long seige: "Something must be the matter, brother. Perhaps the 'possum' is too big for the dog." No show-ever given in the Opera House created as much laughter and applause as did Mr. Jones' "few remarks" and nothing has been so generally enjoyed.

FOR SELLING LIQUOR.—Samuel Landy, of the firm of Fred & Landy, the Gilbert's Creek millers, was arrested Wednesday on a warrant charging him with selling whisky in Danville. Chief of Police G. T. Helm, of Danville, who came for him, thinks that the clever German will have no trouble in acquitting himself of the charge. Mr. Landy claims that the circumstances are as follows: He with four other men put in a nickel a piece and bought a half pint of whisky, he, Landy, doing the buying. The whisky was all consumed by the crowd he claims and that he neither made profit on the deal or acted as an agent for another. Landy has proven an upright, good citizen since he moved to this county and it is hoped that he will have no trouble in coming clear.

THE fiscal court met Tuesday to fix the levy for 1897 and to consider other matters. Mr. J. E. Lynn, recently appointed a magistrate by Judge Dawson, was on hand and was sworn in. In conformance doubtless with the deal that elected the judge to fill out Davison's unexpired term, or possibly with the idea that one good turn deserves another, the court re-elected A. A. McKinney, republican, treasurer, though Squire Lynn voted for W. M. Bright.

The levy was fixed at 43 cents, 17 cents higher than last year, and was divided as follows: 4c for interest on bonds and to provide a sinking fund, 8c for repairs of roads, 10c for ordinary expenses and 21c for maintenance of turnpikes belonging to the county. The poll tax was fixed at $1.50, 25 cents more than last year.

Treasurer A. A. McKinney was allowed $125 for his services and 19 persons were allowed from $1 to $4 a month for their support.

The treasurer was ordered to pay off and destroy four county bonds, aggregating $2,000.

A proposition was made to the holders of the stock in the Stanford & Halls Gap line to pay them $12.50 a share for it and it was accepted. This will require an outlay of $1,475, the county owning 99 shares. The road has been practically free for some time. It is now legally so.

Sheriff T. D. Newland returned the delinquent list, 695 polls and $5,983 of property, in addition to returning 108 polls that were exempted. He also showed that 53 women, firms and others had been listed with poll tax, and $2,074 of property double listed. The court accepted the list and sold it to Mr. Newland for $50.

THE Caledonian Society will give a free entertainment at the court-house Saturday night, 10th, at 7:30. Mr. J. L. Beazley is chairman and the program includes prayer by Dr. W. B. O'Bannon, an address by Prof. E. L. CAT BITTEN.—Elbert Ross, a Lancaster youth, was over yesterday to have Mrs. Anne Duddar's mad stone applied to a wound on his neck an angry cat had made. It did not adhere.

MY millinery goods are now open and ready for your examination and purchase. Call at once and do both. Mrs. A. A. McKinney.

MARSHAL NEWLAND had a writ sworn out yesterday for Perry McLean, a youth of 15. The officers' little son, Irvine, put some hogs in the stray pen which belonged to Mrs. Alexander, with whom McLean lived, and when he caught Irvine he whipped him severely. He will be tried to-day.

INCREASED.—The State Board of Equalization notifies Judge Dawson that 8 per cent must be added to the assessment of lands and personal property in Lincoln and 10 per cent to town lots, unless he can show on the 13th that it should not be done. Thus do the just suffer with the unjust. The man who gave his property in at its right value will be the greater sufferer by the increase.

FROST.—Mr. John Engleman is in receipt of a letter from T. S. Farris, "Bob," at Phoenix, Arizona, stating that a frost which came the night previous killed 250 acres of fine wheat for him, besides doing great damage to other vegetation. The prospects for crops, he says, prior to the frost were the best for years. Mr. Farris is a little discouraged, but he still thinks there is no place like Arizona.

THE G. A. R.—Capt. G. H. McKinney asks us to say that the annual encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic will meet in Lexington, Ky., May 10th and 11th at 12 o'clock m., in the court house. The Council of Administration will meet at 11 o'clock a. m. at head quarters in the Phoenix Hotel. The grand parade will take place at 2 o'clock p. m., May 11. The different rail roads from all points to Lexington have granted one fare for the round trip.
